WILL IS FOUND IN PARIS BANK

Miss Lillian Fair Heller of Boston Said To Have Left $100,000,000

MME. LIOTARDY IS CLAIMANT

Says She Was Promised Whole Estate For Care of Animals

Paris, Dec. 22.—An inquiry into the story told by Mme. Liotardy that she was the sole legatee of the estate of Miss Lillian Fair Heller of Boston, estimated at $100,000,000 has revealed Miss Heller's will in a Paris bank and has resulted in the dismissal of fraud charges brought against Mme. Liotardy by a banker who advanced her 15,000 francs on the strength of her contention.

Mme. Liotardy sought the loan to pay the legal expenses of probating the will. M. Bogg, the banker, was at first skeptical, but Mme. Liotardy explained that the testator was the niece and heir of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Fair, who were killed in an automobile accident in France many years ago. Mme. Liotardy said that she met Miss Heller at Nice and that the two became great friends.

Eventually, she said, Miss Heller informed her that she would make Mme. Liotardy her heir on the condition that she look after several animals in which the testator was interested.

Miss Heller died on Aug. 21, 1921, on the yacht Oldchap in the Mediterranean sea.

Mme. Liotardy said that the will was in a Paris bank but that she had been unable to get formal proof of Miss Heller's death, although she had applied to the dead woman's sister, Mme.

Cattani, the wife of a Cairo banker, M. Bogg advanced Mme. Liotardy 15,000 francs, but on her alleged failure to repay that sum he filed a charge of fraud. An inquiry was started and the will was found. Mme. Liotardy then repaid the money and M. Bogg withdrew the charge.

The examining magistrate is continuing his investigation to determine whether the woman has obtained other loans on the strength of the will.

"RUM PIPE LINE" DISCOVERED

Headquarters in New Orleans and Branches in Seven States

HAS REGULAR SHIPMENTS

Millions of Dollars Worth of Liquor Has Been Transported

New Orleans, Dec. 22.—Agents of the bureau of internal revenue have discovered a new "rum pipe line" with headquarters in New Orleans and branches in seven states, it was said here today.

The "line," operated by a syndicate of bootleggers with a regular schedule of shipments has been in operation several months and has transported millions of dollars worth of liquor, federal agents said.

Two other "rum rings," one of which established a receiving station in Chicago and specialized on train porters carrying suitcase lots, and the other operating by means of express shipments, transporting cases of liquor in tin cases as well as in trunks, have been abandoned as a result of investigation by federal agents, the authorities claim.

The new syndicate, it is charged, employs at regular salaries, agents who travel between New Orleans and branch stations scattered throughout Texas and centralized in other states. Each agent, federal officers said, poses as a traveling salesman and carries large sample cases.

Reports are on file here, they said, of "agents" who engaged the state-rooms and traveled with as many as four trunks, each containing from 15 to 30 cases of liquor. Arrests will be made soon, the federal men announced.
